

QUAERER
THE H. LIEBER COMPANY.
24 West Washington Street.
H. C. Carr
DENTIST
Phone, Green, 2164. 46 N. Pennsylvania St.

The Twin Ring

In the latest twin ring the two stones are set side by side diagonally. It may be two diamonds, or a diamond and ruby, a diamond and emerald, a diamond and pearl, a diamond and sapphire, a diamond and opal, or any other precious stone. We have them all, and would be glad to have you see them.

J. C. SIPE, Importer of DIAMONDS
Rooms 2, 3 and 4, 18 1/2 North Meridian St.
Indianapolis, Ind.

Fancy Hosiery

New style Lisle, 35c; three for $1.00.
Ladies' and Misses' Black Lace, 25c pair.

Tucker's
10 EAST WASHINGTON STREET.

CITY NEWS NOTES.

Dr. B. Erdman has returned from New York and Ernest Erdman has returned from St. Paul.
Neonal Auxiliary will be entertained by Mrs. Darby, 1216 Penn. avenue, next Thursday afternoon.
The Women's Missionary Society of Mayflower Church will meet next Friday afternoon at the church.
The annual banquet of Capitol Council, No. 27, Y. M. I., will be given Wednesday night in the Grand Hotel. D. B. Shea is chairman of the banquet committee.
The Winona Chautauque Circle will meet with Mrs. Newell H. Stewart at 10 o'clock. Blanche to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.
The Woman's Auxiliary of the Railway Postal Clerks will meet with Mrs. J. H. Tipton, 208 Park avenue, to-morrow afternoon.
Frank Duncan, operator at police headquarters, is seriously ill at Mrs. J. H. Tipton's apartment house, North Illinois street.
A Hiawatha entertainment will be given at the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Door of Hope.
The monthly sale of the Needle Society of the First Presbyterian Church will be held Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors.
Miss Mary Danforth, a returned missionary from Nagoa, Japan, will occupy the pulpit of Roberts Park Church this evening.
Major Robert Anderson W. R. C. will give a social and card party at Pearson's Hall Wednesday evening. The public is invited.
George H. Chapman Post, G. A. R., decided last night to attend a memorial service at the Sixth Presbyterian Church on May 25.
Winona Council, No. 88, D. P., will give an ice cream social Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. T. McCready, 133 Belmont street.
The board of managers of the Girls' Industrial School will meet with Mrs. Frank A. Blanchard, at the Savoy, to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock.
The Presiding Brigade will have its next regular meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stewart Tuesday evening.
An old-time revival will commence to-day in Peniel Temple and last until April 15. Three meetings will be held to-day, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, of Lagrange, will preach.
Word from Baltimore says that the condition of D. P. Erwin, who is ill at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, is somewhat improved. The attending physicians believe he is out of danger.
Mr. Crawford Fairbanks, who arrived at his home in Terre Haute Wednesday night, is threatened with pneumonia, and, although reported better yesterday, will be confined to the house for some time.
Mayor Bookwater telegraphed his private secretary from Philadelphia yesterday that the condition of his brother, Morton Bookwater, is considerably improved and that there is some hope of his recovery.
Thieves broke open the front door of the carriage factory of Charles E. Halstead & Co., No. 211 North Delaware street, last night. They ransacked the desks but obtained nothing of value. The police are investigating.
The ladies of Emanuel Baptist Church will hold a rummage sale the last week in April. The store room will be near Fountain square on Virginia street. Any persons desiring to contribute furniture, clothing, etc., address the president, Mrs. C. C. Watson, 1315 Froest street.
Special services will be held in the First Baptist Church next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock for the benefit of the travelers who will meet at the Denison Hotel, from which place they will march in a body to the Church. Dr. Villers will preach the sermon.
The Marion county Probationists will hold their convention Wednesday night in the Criminal Court room, nominating a full county ticket, reorganizing the committees and selecting nine delegates to the state convention. C. E. Newlin will preside, W. H. Boles, of Alma, Ill., will deliver a talk at the night mass meeting.
The County Commissioners have received a franchise application from John H. McCaslin, who wishes to build an interurban road from the point where the proposed route of the traction line to South Indianapolis branches from the Bluff road to the county line. The route asked by Mr. McCaslin is a part of the route of the line to Waverly.
The members of the Missionary Society of the United Methodist Church will hold their semi-annual meeting next Wednesday in the First English Lutheran Church. The Rev. E. C. Nordyke will be in charge of Mrs. Charles Nordyke. The election of officers will take place in the morning. From 11 to 12 o'clock there will be a reading of the different city missions, including Rescue Mission, Harley Gibbs, Fourth Presbyterian and Plymouth Neighborhood House. At the afternoon session the Rev. Hugh Kirkland will deliver a sermon on "Coal Mine Missions."

A two-story frame house on Massachusetts avenue, near New Jersey street, is being torn down, and it is said it was the oldest house in the city. It was called the Wallace homestead, being once owned by the late Governor David Wallace, who bought it from the father of the late Judge Napoleon B. Taylor. Governor Wallace originally owned the entire tract on which the house stood. It was there that General Lew Wallace spent his early boyhood days. The old house was stately built, and the timber now being taken out is unsurpassed.
Dr. Rowland, secretary of the Fountain County Board of Health, sent a letter to the State Board of Health in which he charged a man named Kramer, a hotel keeper at Cameron Springs, with having introduced a guest, who was declared by a physician to have smallpox, and who showed signs of the disease, to the place, as Kramer said the man's presence would hurt the business of the hotel. Dr. Rowland said the man was placed in a carriage to Kramer and driven to the Marion station and placed in a train and sent to Chicago, where he is now in quarantine. The State Board of Health will investigate the case with the purpose of prosecuting Kramer and the physician.
For Benefit of Alpha Home.

"Billy" McClain, assisted by a number of colored performers, will give a vaudeville entertainment Wednesday night in Tomlinson Hall for the benefit of the Alpha Home for aged colored women. Mme. Cordelia, Harry Pilder and Frank Brown will take prominent parts in the show. The program from Allen Chapel, Bethel Church and Fountain Chapel will assist, with Carter Smith's Orchestra. The Rev. E. French Hurley, pastor of Allen Chapel, will deliver an opening address, in addition to the choir singing there will be a chorus of three hundred voices.

New Pianos $150 and up at Wulfsberg's.

OLEOMARGARINE PLANTS

OWNERS OF TWO IN THIS CITY DISTURBED BY BILL IN CONGRESS.

Tax Provided by Proposed Law Would Prohibit Manufacture, According to Them.

If the oleomargarine bill now before Congress becomes a law, two factories in this city probably will close. It is said the tax of 10 cents a pound on oleomargarine and the high license for the privilege of manufacturing the product will have a depressing effect on the industry. At Kingman's packing house, one of the largest oleomargarine plants in the West, it was said yesterday that if the law does go into effect and is held constitutional by the Supreme Court, it will have the effect of laying waste many thousands of dollars' worth of machinery and property.

Robert S. Sinclair, manager of Kingman's packing house, said that the new law, as referred back to the House of Representatives by the Senate, looks much like class legislation and will hardly stand the test of the courts. He said that in Kingman's plant the manufacture of oleomargarine is one of the largest branches of the business, and since its beginning eight years ago has steadily increased until now more than 150 persons are employed in making the butter. He said the business has increased so during the past eight years that it was necessary to move the plant from the middle of the packing house, where it was first placed, to a larger building. Now, he said, this place has grown too small for the present needs and ready large additions have been begun. He said these improvements will entail the outlay of many thousands of dollars, as some very fine machinery has been ordered.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Arthur Jordan, who is also a manufacturer of oleomargarine and process or renovated butter, says that the measure now pending in Congress is a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

When the firm heard of the proposed tax by the government, he said, the additions proposed and the machinery ordered were deferred until it could be seen if the law is upheld. He said that under the proposed tax the legitimate butter makers will have a good opportunity to wind up the people and at the same time get around the government tax and license. Mr. Sinclair said he thought measures such as now pending in Congress was a disgrace to the country. In Holland, he said, where the largest oleomargarine factories in the world are located, there is no tax of any kind on the manufacture of butterine and the product has been very helpful to the country. Holland sends "oleo" to Great Britain, Austria and France. He said the manufacture of the product should be fostered in this country.

Thomas C. Whallon and Mr. O. O. Jones, of Fortville, Trolley parties will come from Franklin, Greenwood, Greenfield, Fortville, Anderson, Muncie, Marion, Pendleton, Ellettsville, Kokomo, Shelbyville, Martinsville, Noblesville, Hope, Brazil and Lafayette.

CHARLES W. DOYLE'S DEATH.

He Was a Half-Brother of Senator A. J. Beveridge.